Hello Geocachers,

Police Department 827 welcomes responsible geocaching. We understand that geocaching is becoming an increasingly popular hobby. Along with Groundspeak, we would like to remind geocachers that they should not place caches in areas that might cause unnecessary concern. Think about how your container and the actions of geocachers seeking it will be perceived by the public. Although your geocache will be hidden with landowner permission, concerned passersby who are unaware of geocaching may view people searching the property as suspicious. For example, a geocacher will likely be wrongly suspected of being malicious if a cache is hidden in full view of an office or apartment windows.

If you have any questions, you can reach us at ###-###-####.

Police Department 827 covers the entire southern half of Sample County, from the lake shore on the west and to the county line in the east. This area is further subdivided into smaller regions designated as O, R and S on this sample map. When there is a question, it helps to let the police officers know where your geocache is located.
